

2016 CALL FOR PAPERS: CELTIC STUDIES PANEL AT THE NORTHEAST POPULAR/AMERICAN CULTURE ASSOCIATION

The Northeast Popular/American Culture Association is seeking papers on Celtic issues in popular and American culture, broadly construed, for its annual fall conference to be held on Friday October 21 and Saturday October 22, 2016 on the campus of Keene State College College in Keene, New Hampshire.

NEPCA conferences seek to be ones in which graduate students, junior faculty, independent researchers, and senior faculty convene as equals. NEPCA prides itself on offering intimate and nurturing sessions in which new ideas and works-in-progress can be aired, as well as completed projects. Papers are generally 15-20 minutes in length. Any paper addressing Celtic issues and Popular Culture will be considered for presentation.

Both individual papers and complete panels will be considered. The deadline for applications is June 1, 2016.

NEPCA Fall Conference information, including the paper proposal form, can be found at: <http://nepca.wordpress.com/fall-conference/>

After filling out the proposal on line (complete with abstract and short CV) please e-mail the Program Chair Karen Honeycutt: khoneycutt@keene.edu and to the Area Chair for Celtic Studies: Tim Madigan tmadigan@sjfc.edu to let them both know you have submitted the proposal.

If you have any questions, or need any further details, please contact Tim Madigan (NEPCA President and Director of the St. John Fisher College Irish Studies Program) at tmadigan@sjfc.edu for details.
